JACKSON, Miss. — Mississippi law enforcement officials have released a list of the state's most wanted fugitives.

Public Safety Commissioner Sean Tindal announced the launch Thursday of Mississippi's Most Wanted list, which is compiled by the Mississippi Bureau of Investigation in conjunction with law enforcement across the state.

"The individuals on this list pose a very serious threat to our communities," Tindell said in a news release. "We are asking for the public's assistance in locating these individuals. It is our hope that Mississippi's Most Wanted list will increase exposure and lead to the capture and arrest of these fugitives."

The list will be updated on the Mississippi Department of Public Safety's website and on social media.

"It is my hope that with this list, Mississippians can help capture the fugitives labeled as Mississippi's Most Wanted," Gov. Tate Reeves said. "We can work together and make this great state safer."

The current list of 10 fugitives includes people wanted for charges that include accessory after the fact for murder, aggravated assault and rape.

Anyone with information about the whereabouts of the most wanted on the list is asked to call Crime Stoppers at 1-888-8CRIMES (1-888-827-4637).
